

PRESIDENT WILSON PREPARING ANNUAL MESSAGE

President Wilson has begun work on his annual message to Congress, which will be transmitted either on the opening day of the next session on December 6 or on the day following.

White House officials said they had no information as to what recommendations the President plans to make to Congress, but administration officials expect that among other things he will again urge enactment of a number of reconstruction measures which he recommended at the first special session of the present Congress, early last year.

BOURBON FARMING CONDITIONS

Bourbon county farmers are busy now getting in the corn crop. The corn is now well dried out and the farmers are anxious to get it under shelter before bad weather sets in permanently. Most farmers are experiencing considerable difficulty in getting sufficient help on the farm, but are paying excellent wages to those they do get.

A great deal of tobacco is being stripped just now. The growers are eager to get first whack at the early season prices.

The cold weather has set farmers to thinking and planning for "hog-killing time." Some have already killed their animals.

All the winter crops are up, and looking fine, with a much greater output of wheat than was formerly expected.

HANOVER COLLEGE HEAD ADDRESSES STATE STUDENTS

Taking as his subject "Education for Democracy," Dr. W. A. Mills, president of Hanover College, Hanover, Indiana, addressed the weekly convocation of the University of Kentucky. He was heard with much interest, not only because of his high standing in the academic world, but also because Hanover College has just announced the beginning of a campaign for $500,000 additional endowment funds, in order that the institution may be able to keep up its standard in the face of advancing costs.

At the close of the convocation, Mr. Mills was asked why Hanover College is asking for a larger endowment. He showed that there is a lack of dormitory room for the men who are forced to find quarters outside the campus, that Hanover professors are getting a lower salary than is almost any other institution of learning in the State, that it is impossible to raise the tuition fee any higher for fear of closing the doors of Hanover against the poorer students, and that there is a distinct shortage of equipment at college.

STOCK, CROP, ETC.

—Moore Bros., L. F. D. No. 1, near Paris, sold recently to Bourbon county parties six hundred barrels of corn in the field at $4.25 a barrel. The purchasers are to shuck the corn. This is one of the best sales of the season.

MATRIMONIAL.

—County Clerk Pearce Paton issued a marriage license Saturday evening to Lyman Taylor, 23, and Miss Ethel Fleming, 21, both of Paris.

—The following marriage licenses were issued yesterday from the office of County Clerk Pearce Paton: George W. Fields, 24, Jackson county, and Martha Browning, 17, of Austerlitz; James M. Welsh, 38, of Bourbon county, and Miss Emma Tamme, 38, Danville.

MARRIAGE BOARD.

—The wedding of Mr. Lyons Board, of Paris, and Miss Nell Harlan Marr, of Harrodsburg, will take place at the home of the bride's parents, in Harrodsburg, at four o'clock to-morrow afternoon. After a honeymoon trip the young couple will return to Paris, where they will be "at home" to their friends.

FLEMING-TAYLOR.

—The wedding of Miss Ethel Fleming and Mr. Lyman Taylor, both of Paris, was solemnized at six o'clock, Saturday evening at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Father Coleman, pastor of the Church of the Annunciation, in this city. Miss Helen Cain was bridesmaid and Mr. Thos. A. Woods, best man. The attendants were Miss Nell Woods and Mr. E. T. Saunders. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Taylor went to the home of the groom, where a wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left for a honeymoon trip to points in the East.

TURNER-JAMES.

—The wedding of Lawrence Holt James, son of Mrs. Mollie James, of Paris, and Miss Frances Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Turner, of Hazard, was solemnized Saturday evening at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. I. J. Spencer, on Walnut street, in Lexington. The ceremony was witnessed by only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends of the young people. After a visit to relatives in Paris, Mr. and Mrs. James returned to Hazard, where the groom is in business. Mr. James has been a resident of Hazard for some time, first in the employ of the Louisville & Nashville, later with a power and development company. Very recently he became head clerk at the Beaumont Hotel, conducted by Mrs. Speed Hilber, formerly of Paris. Mr. James is a brother of Cornelius, Julian and John James, all of Paris. His bride is an attractive and popular young woman of Hazard.

The wedding came in the nature of a surprise to the many friends of the groom, in this city, who extend to him and his fair bride their warmest congratulations and best wishes.

MRS. CHANDLER HOME FROM EUROPE.

Mrs. O. J. Chandler, of Harrodsburg, formerly of Paris, who represented Kentucky at the International Council of Women at Christiania, Norway, has just returned after being abroad for several months. She states that the most vivid impressions that remain with her are the beautiful American cemeteries on the battlefields of France. The rows and rows of white crosses give one an impression of a vast field of white lilies, she declares. Growing all about the graves are red, white and blue flowers, with the Stars and Stripes waving in the center of each field of the dead. She says if American mothers could see how exquisite are the surroundings they would not want their boys disturbed, but would leave them to rest where they fell.

TRADE AT HOME

A Paris woman went to Lexington to buy a pair of shoes. Coming home she told her home merchant she had saved $2.00 on the purchase. She said she had paid $10.00 for a pair of shoes in Lexington, when he had charged her $12.00.

And then the home dealer told her he would have sold her a pair like she got in Lexington for $9.00, or $1.00 less than she paid in Lexington and would have saved her $1.00 a pair, too.

Moral—When you look at prices away from home, also look at the brand or the quality.

BAD MANNERS AS WELL AS BAD NOISES

Man is beginning to appreciate that in the automobile he has created an engine of destruction as well as a thing of great convenience. The "speeder" is getting his just dues in the courts these days. We are decreeing that the streets in the downtown congested districts of Paris shall be something more than open-air livery stables for the successors of the horse. And the police, aided by Police Judge Ernest Martin, will see to it that the good work of apprehending and convicting the "persistent lawbreakers" is kept going. But there is one whose offense nothing extenuates. The speeder may not be able to actually gauge his speed. The man who parks his car in the forbidden territory has the excuse that he must park it some where, so why not there. But the man who leaves his muffler open or off not only breaks the law, but he is frequently heard boasting of it. It is time that these drivers of ill-smelling behemoths, snorting their way through the streets, should receive a punishment fitting the misdemeanor.

Reason Demands to Be Heard. Remember this: They that will not be counseled cannot be helped. If you do not hear Reason, she will rap you on the knuckles.—Franklin.
